kuramoto ice from japan! 4. per sphere

founded in 1923, kuramoto ice developed junpyo ("pure ice" in Japanese) made by slowly freezing drinking water at around 14° F while agitating it for over 48 hours. characterized by its high transparency, hardness & slow melting properties. with the least surface area of all shapes, spherical ice is slower to melt & dilute the flavors of a wellcrafted cocktail—ideal for those who enjoy whiskey on the rocks. we encourage you to take your sphere home to re-freeze & re-use.
